I AM A NORTH CAROLINA BOY BORN AND RAISED.

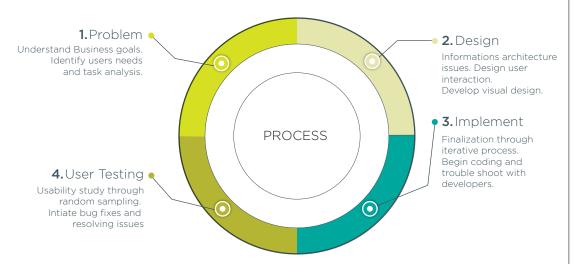

What I Do

I am strong design leader, managing a team of designers through branding, design and strategy. I drive a collaborative process that brings multiple stakeholders together to create content that is tailored to our customers and brand appropriate. I use Ux/Ui best practices to push the envelope on all digital creative that spans from mobile app, web, social and digital marketing (interactive banners & email). I have a strong business acumen and share daily analytics and results with the creative team to push and improve over time.

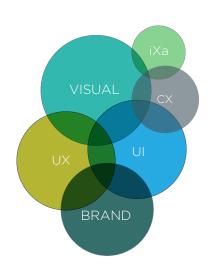

I believe in strong bench strength and cross train the team to bring out their best work. My managing style is laid back but process driven. I believe most creatives need a "come as you are" mentally, but given a environment that is focused on process with clear cut expectations sets them up for success. My current role is split up into three specific areas of focus allowing me to work with radically different teams and personalities.

I partner with merchandising for art direction, selection of appropriate merchandise and execution of the companies goals. I work with the marketing team to plan, schedule and execute the creative campaigns across all business verticals. I work the user experience team and developers to ideate, test and improve the customer experience on a site that has over 3 million sessions a month and yearly intake of $450 million dollars.
